Declaration of Sharon Lopez

I, Sharon Lopez, a citizen of the United States and of the city of Warren, Michigan, do declare under the penalty of perjury:

1. I live at 7012 Studebaker in Warren, in Macomb County, Michigan. I have lived at this address for thirty years on and off. My father quit-claimed the deed to me before he died. I live here with my husband.

2. I also own the house next door at 7004 Studebaker. My father also owned that house and quit-claimed the deed to me around the same time.

3. I took a mortgage out on the 7004 Studebaker home in 2002. My father died in 2001, and my son moved into the house next door. My son broke his leg in five places, and was laid up for six months with that leg. He couldn’t pay the rent, and I had to take out a mortgage on the home for that reason. I used the mortgage to pay off credit card bills.

4. I took out a second mortgage on the 7004 Studebaker home in 2004. My son still wasn’t paying his rent and the utilities regularly or fully. I had thought the mortgage was a fixed-rate mortgage, but it turned out to be fixed only for two years, after which it became an adjustable rate mortgage, up to over ten percent.

5. Other than the rental income, the only regular income that comes into our household since my husband was laid off in about 2002 is my husband’s Social Security retirement income. He was a welder at Paslin for about eight years, and for about twenty years before that at Key Welder. Joe and I have been together twenty-seven years. I spent most of my adult life raising my children, so I don’t have enough working hours in Social Security to collect my own benefits. My husband is currently suffering from cancer, and I have COPD and severe back problems, and our medical bills are significant.
6. My son had a wood-burning stove in the garage at 7004 Studebaker, and a spark from the stove hit a piece of cardboard in the garage and started a fire on November 7, 2007. Three-quarters of the garage was destroyed. After the fire, my son moved out and stopped paying rent. He had been paying $1200 a month.

7. I kept up the mortgage, insurance, and tax payments for the house after the fire hit until May, but after that, with the loss of my son’s rent, I couldn’t keep up with the payments, which were between $800 and $860 a month.

8. I’ve had a contractor working on the house to get it in livable condition so I can rent the house again, but I’ve had difficulty getting the insurance money to the contractor.

9. I’m currently behind between $3,000 and $4,000 in payments on my mortgage. The total amount I owe is around $90,000.

10. My bank foreclosed on the 7004 Studebaker property sometime last month. I found a notice posted on my door.

11. I have been registered to vote in Warren for at least ten years. I vote regularly, and voted in the 2006, 2004, and 2000 elections.

12. I plan to vote in the November 2008 election, from my registration address at 7012 Studebaker Avenue.

13. I learned this week that the Republicans may be putting together a list of people whose properties are in foreclosure to challenge their right to vote.

14. I’m worried that because my property was placed into foreclosure, my ballot might be challenged. Although I’m registered at 7012, I worry that I might be challenged anyway because the 7004 property, which is in my name, is in foreclosure and the addresses are so close.

15. I think it’s totally wrong to challenge someone’s right to vote because they are in foreclosure. I think what you owe on your house shouldn’t have any relation to your right to vote. I think you should be able to vote even if you don’t have a home.
I declare that the foregoing is true and correct.
