VII. LEGAL PRINCIPLES

(37) The defendants have been charged in an indictment. An indictment is just the formal way of informing a defendant of the nature of the charges against him and is not proof that the defendant has engaged in any illegal activity. You are not to consider the indictment as any indication of guilt, regardless of the number of charges contained in it. Do you understand this principle of law?

Yes                       No

(a) If you do not agree, will you have any difficulty following that principle of law if you are selected as a juror in this trial?

Yes                       No

(38) To reach a verdict, every juror must agree on the verdict. That is, any verdict must be unanimous. In deliberations you must consider the opinions and points of your fellow jurors. In the final analysis, however, you must follow your own conscience and be personally satisfied with any verdict. Would any of you have difficulty expressing your own opinions and thoughts about this case to your fellow jurors?

Yes                       No

(39) If it should come to pass, after you have heard all the evidence, the arguments of the lawyers, and my instructions in the law - if you are then persuaded by the trial itself that the defendant is guilty of the charge beyond a reasonable doubt, then it would be your duty to vote guilty. Do you feel that you would be able to carry out that duty?

Yes                       No

(40) On the other hand, if after you have heard all the evidence, the arguments of the lawyers, and my instructions in the law - if you then have a reasonable doubt as to the defendant's guilt of the charge, then you must vote not guilty. Do you feel that you would be able to carry out that duty?

Yes                       No

(41) The law requires that jurors weigh the evidence in a case and reach a verdict based solely on the admitted evidence and instructions of law without regard whatsoever for the potential punishment might or might not be. Would you have any difficulty following this principle?

Yes                       No

Juror No.: _____

VIII. INVESTIGATIVE TECHNIQUES

- (42) Key government witnesses in this case are expected to testify that they provided information related to possible criminal activity to the government as confidential informants. Initially, they did not want their identities disclosed. Do you hold any beliefs or opinions that would affect your ability to fairly and impartially evaluate such testimony from those witnesses?

- (43) Key government witnesses in this case consented to have conversations related to criminal activity tape recorded. Do you hold any beliefs or opinions that would affect your ability to fairly and impartially evaluate such testimony from those witnesses?

- (44) Key government witnesses in this case are expect to testify that they participated in serious crimes. These witnesses have pled guilty and are testifying pursuant to plea agreements with the government in hopes that their own sentences will be reduced. What are your thoughts about the government relying on such witnesses to prove its case?

- (45) Do you hold any beliefs or opinions that would affect your ability to evaluate such testimony from such witnesses fairly and impartially?

- (46) Can you promise that you are able and willing to fairly and impartially assess the testimony of such witnesses, in accordance with the Court's instructions?  Yes  No
If "No," please explain. _____

- (47) You will hear evidence in the government's case that was produced by wire-taps and surveillance photographs, which are legitimate law enforcement techniques. Is there anything about the government's use of these surveillance techniques that would prevent you from fairly or impartially evaluating the evidence?

---
