Registration Issues Case Study Answer

What should Kevin do to determine if she can vote?

With the exception of the United States Citizenship Certificate, the acceptable form of identification must be current or have expired no more than 60 days before being presented for voter qualification at the polling place.

Kevin should ask the voter if she has another form of acceptable ID. If the voter has no acceptable form of identification, the voter may still be permitted to vote a provisional ballot, but the election judge will advise the voter that in order to have the provisional ballot accepted, the voter must present an acceptable form of identification to the voter registrar no later than the 6th day after the election date, or, alternatively, complete an exemption form in the presence of the voter registrar no later than the 8th day after the election date.
