Quotes - HRC Press Release on S.B.14

1. Rep. Aaron Peña - "The boss system is dead. Texans are demanding fair elections, and as representatives of the people, we will deliver."

2. Rep. Jose Alisvera - "As a former judge, I know first-hand the extent of voter fraud in this state. This bill would curb instances of voter fraud and make our government more transparent."

3. Rep. Dee Margo - "Texans are disgusted with the way elections are handled in our state and the call for Voter ID legislation from both Republicans and Democrats shows this."

Rep. John Garza - "Every time I talk to an apathetic voter, the one point they bring up is that their vote doesn't matter. Voter ID will make elections in Texas matter. For so long, political bosses have discouraged people to vote. Well, we have a message for Texans: your vote will matter. It is your birthright, and we hear your call for free and fair elections."

Rep. Connie Scott - "Our political culture was formed around the one-person, one-vote philosophy. As government officials, we owe it to the people to make sure their vote counts, and that all voters are counted equally in the eyes of the government."

Rep. Rodney Anderson - "Republicans and Democrats both have agreed that election reform is a must in Texas, and asking voters to prove that they are who they say they are is the best way to start the conversation."

Rep. Raul Torres - "As Americans, our right to vote is our birthright. When it is diluted by corruption, our birthright is stripped from us."

Rep. Rodney Anderson - "The founding fathers of the United States and Texas would be appalled by our current elections systems and its shortfalls. Voter ID would make their dream of representative government become a permanent reality in our state."

Rep. Todd Hunter - "With so many Americans clamoring for election reform, Texas can set an example for the nation with our unique approach to voter reform, which calls for, at the very least, a one-person, one-vote system."

Rep. Jim Landtrop - "If we want to close loopholes that allow voter fraud in Texas, we must first start with a comprehensive analysis on the problem of voter fraud. We can have a conversation on election reform, but we must first start with ensuring that everyone who votes is exactly who they say they are."

Rep. Ken Legler - "People in Texas have been calling for voters to show ID for years now. This is just the next logical step in the road toward free and fair elections in our state."
Hispanic Republican Conference Unanimously Supports Voter ID Bill, Texas Must Assure Integrity of Elections

AUSTIN - The Hispanic Republican Conference of Texas (HRC) announced today its unanimous support of SB 14, the Voter ID bill. SB 14 was voted out of committee last week and is expected to be considered by the full House. The legislation is co-sponsored by the majority of the House, reflecting the overwhelming support of the public and the consensus on the importance of a fair and accurate election system.

The following quotes can be attributed to the stated member of the HRC:

"The heart and soul of our Republic is the elections process. These results determine our policy makers and decisions which affect our everyday lives. It is imperative the voters of Texas have confidence in the integrity of our elections process. SB14 goes a very long way to accomplish and secure this confidence." – State Rep. Larry Gonzales

"The founding fathers of the U.S. and Texas would be appalled by our current election systems and its shortfalls. As government officials, we owe it to the people of Texas to make sure their votes count." – State Rep. Jim Landtroop

"As a former prosecutor who has actually prosecuted cases of voter fraud, I believe our citizens need measures like this to inspire confidence in the election system. Some people complain about the disenfranchisement of marginal voters... what about the disenfranchisement of voters who do not vote because they believe their vote will be watered-down by vote fraud? We have counties in this state that have more registered voters than persons eligible to vote. We have groups like ACORN coming into our state to "register" voters. We have heard what they have been up to in other states. The opportunity for vote fraud is here. This measure will do much to close the door on that opportunity. You need an I.D. for everything you do in today's society... why not to vote?" – State Rep. Jose Aliseda

"Voting is a sacred right provided by the constitution, and it should be protected by all available means." – State Rep. Dee Margo

"Our political culture was formed around the one-person, one-vote philosophy. As government officials, we owe it to the people to make sure their vote counts, and that all voters are counted equally in the eyes of the government." – State Rep. Ken Legler

"Republicans and Democrats both have agreed that election reform is a must in Texas, and asking voters to prove that they are who they say they are is the best way to start the conversation." – State Rep. Rodney Anderson
"After hearing repeated complaints from election officials and more recently from poll watchers during the November election, it was clear that I needed to help pass Voter ID to make elections fair and transparent. We have to present ID for the most mundane things such as cashing a check or using a credit card. Showing an ID for something as critical as voting is only right and logical." - State Rep. Connie Scott

"I fully support the wishes of my constituents who overwhelming approve of Voter ID." – State Rep. Raul Torres

"To ensure the integrity of our election process, I am supporting the Voter ID bill along with other bills to ensure that candidates reside in their districts, to strengthen our voter registration system, to protect military voter access to Texas elections and strengthening poll site regulations. Voter ID is an important part of a much larger effort to strengthen all aspects of our election process." - State Rep. John V. Garza

"The boss system is dead. Texans are demanding fair elections, and as representatives of the people, we will deliver." – State Rep. Aaron Peña

The Hispanic Republican Conference was formed to provide a conservative viewpoint on issues concerning Hispanic communities in Texas, a growing segment of the Republican Party. Hispanic members and those representing districts with Hispanic populations above 40% are eligible to join the conference as voting members. Representatives of districts with over 30% Hispanic population qualify as associate members. Follow the Conference on Twitter @HRCofTexas and on Facebook.

###
VOTER ID - OVERVIEW

I. LEGITIMATE STATE INTERESTS

- Detect and deter fraud
- Improve and modernize election procedures
- Protect public confidence in elections

II. BIG PICTURE

- This bill simplifies the process for voting
- To ensure integrity of elections, requires every voter to show a government-issued photo ID and increases criminal penalty for voter fraud
- To ensure access to polls, provides a few exceptions (elderly, religious, indigent, disabled)
- Provides free ID cards
- Provides months of education for voters and poll workers
- Secretary of State currently has federal HAVA funds to pay for implementation

III. LIKELY QUESTIONS FROM OPPONENTS

"Where is the evidence of fraud?"
- There is potential for fraud in registration, in-person voting, and counting of ballots. This bill addresses one type of potential fraud.
- In-person voter fraud is difficult to deter and detect under current laws.
- Supreme Court noted in Crawford that the risk of voter fraud is real and states have an interest in ensuring accurate elections.

"What is the true cost of this bill? Is this an unfunded mandate?"
- The fiscal note is $2 million to pay for statewide education efforts, but Secretary of State testified in Senate that they have more than enough federal HAVA funds to pay that cost.
- Local governments will be conducting elections in mostly the same manner. Changing details of training or wording on notices should not add significant new costs.
- Free IDs have not proved to be a significant cost in other states. Most voters already have photo ID.

"What about people who do not have access to photo ID?"
- I am confident that every voter in Texas has or can obtain an acceptable photo ID.
- No voter has come forward in last three sessions of this debate to claim otherwise, and no such voter has come forward in Indiana or Georgia during last four years.
- Bill requires free IDs and provides several exceptions to ID requirements. Also, current mail ballot exceptions (over 65, homebound, etc) will continue in law.
