

Field Managers	The number of field managers is based on the following formula: Total # of signatures needed/Days for petitioning/# of signatures that can be gathered by one field manager with team of 5 petitioners (i.e., 36,000/25/120).
Petitioners	It is customary to have a field manager for each team of 5 petitioners.
15 passenger van rental/week	The cost of 15-person van rental per week is derived from a quote obtained from Action Car Rental of $1005 per week including tax plus $30/day for insurance. Such rentals are commonly used for petitioning drives and GOTV efforts.
10% additional for recruitment costs and costs of employees that don't work out	This is a conservative estimate based on my experience.
Campaign Field Staff
Field Managers	The number of field managers for the campaign is based on the following formula: Total # of IDs needed/Days to get IDs/# of IDs that can be gathered by one field manager with team of 5 petitioners in one day (i.e., 43,848/36/84).
Door-to-door	As in the case of petitioning, the standard practice is to have a field manager with a team of five door-to-door canvassers.
Data Entry	Data entry workers enter 60 entries per hour; 96 canvassers obtain 20 voter contact responses per night for 36 nights. Accordingly, the campaign would be required to pay for approximately 1152 hours of data entry to record the IDs obtained. It is standard practice to pay for such data entry.
15 passenger van rental/week	The cost of 15-person van rental per week is derived from a quote obtained from Action Car Rental of $1005 per week including tax plus $30/day for insurance. Such rentals are commonly used for petitioning drives and GOTV efforts.
Mailings & Printed Materials
Petitions	The cost of printing petitions was obtained from Astoria Graphics, the established firm in NYC that most campaigns use. The cost would be $300/AD, and this conservative estimate reflects a discount for the large number of ADs that would be involved.
Voter file	The cost of obtaining a standard voter file with names and prime voting information for Brooklyn and Staten Island voters was obtained from Prime NY, the established firm in NYC that most campaigns use.
Street Piece for Petitioning	The number of street pieces is based on the following formula: 25 days of petitioning x 72 petitioners (incl. Field managers) x 60 doors plus 10,000 for a cushion.
Street piece for Campaign	The number of street pieces is based on the following formula: 36 days of canvassing x 96 canvassers (incl. Field managers) x 55 doors plus 10,000 for a cushion.
Mailings	This analysis assumes 4 mailings over the course of the delegate campaign. This is an extremely conservative estimate, as most campaigns do more than 5-6 separate mailings. Furthermore, doing 24 small print runs is very expensive and likely to cost you at least .44 cents per piece and possibly much more. The number of actual pieces is determined typically by multiplying the votes needed in an AD x 2 (i.e., the full expected turnout) x 1.3 (a standard multiplier based on the assumption that you need to mail more voters than a 1-to-1 ratio would suggest) x # of ADs.
GOTV piece	This figure assumes sufficient GOTV pieces for three GOTV days, palmcarding at pollsites on primary day, and canvassing all doors twice.
Primary Day/GOTV Operation
Phone Banking	This cost figure is based on the following formula: Total IDs needed x % of IDs for whom campaign obtains phone #s x % used to account for the fact that certain voters live together in a single household x % completion rate for phone calls x cost per call for paid calls. Based on past experience, this analysis assumes the campaign will obtain phone #s for 80% of those IDs whom we have contacted (known as "positives"). It is standard practice to multiply by .8 to account for "householding." It is standard to assume a 70% completion rate for calls. For paid calls, the Tyson Organization, an established phone banking firm in NYC, charges .65 cents per completed call. Although a challenger candidate will have tremendous difficulty obtaining large numbers of volunteers, this analysis has optimistically assumed that only 50% of the calls will need to be paid for, and 50% will be made by campaign volunteers.
Canvassing
GOTV Coordinators	Responsible for recruitment, planning all GOTV logistics including both paid workers and volunteers.
Sat.-Mon.Door-to-Door	Assumes campaign would seek to revisit all positives at least once between Saturday and Monday. Again, this is conservative. If resources were available, I would advise revisiting all positives twice during this period, which is customary. Each canvasser gets a list of 75 voters.
Primary Day Door-to-Door	Assumes that campaign will seek to doorknock all positives on Primary Day and that each canvasser should have a list of 75 positives. Some GOTV operations give canvassers only 50 voters each, so this is a conservative assumption that understates the likely costs. This operation requires a massive recruitment effort at churches, schools, and religious academies, etc., which is commonplace for countywide elections.
Transportation
GOTV	The cost of 15-person van rental per week is derived from a quote obtained from Action Car Rental of $1005 per week including tax plus $30/day for insurance. Such rentals are commonly used for petitioning drives and GOTV efforts. Drivers are field managers
Primary Day Only	For Primary Day, the rental is by the hour including driver. This cost was obtained from Steady Rider, Inc.
Visibility
Palmcarding	Assumes that campaign seeks to cover top 192 (24 ADs x 8 best sites) pollsites with 2 people each. Optimistically assumes 50% of this pollsites coverage will come from volunteers and that all transportation for this operation will be provided by volunteers in kind.
Legal Monitoring	Assumes optimistically that campaign will be able to get at least 24 volunteer attorneys with transportation to monitor polling sites.
