Welcome to The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law

Our Master of Laws (LL.M.) program is designed for foreign-trained lawyers interested in learning about the American legal system. The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law is one of the top-ranked public law schools in the United States. Our LL.M. students come from all over the globe. This allows our graduates the ability to create a network of attorneys that crosses continents and oceans. In addition, our 550 domestic J.D. law students come from more than 20 different states and earned their college degrees from more than 100 different universities. LL.M. and J.D. students take classes side-by-side and often study and socialize together after class.

Programs
• Legal English summer program
• Moot court and negotiation competitions
• The mediation/legislation clinic
• Limited number of research assistantships available
• Career services specifically for LL.Ms
• Public externship opportunities
• Oxford Summer Program (Oxford, England)
• Washington, D.C. Summer Program

What is Moritz?
The name of our law school is The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law. The name “Moritz” comes from Michael E. Moritz, a 1961 graduate and successful lawyer who donated $30 million to the school.
Our Academic Program

At Moritz, we offer a wide range of courses designed to build a solid foundation in understanding the American legal system. We also offer many innovative and challenging courses and seminars that explore new and emerging legal fields and issues. We create a custom course schedule for each of our LL.M. students that is designed to meet an individual’s needs and interests. There are three ways to structure your LL.M. studies. First, you can choose to pursue a truly general LL.M. that provides a broad understanding of the fundamentals of American law, electing to take courses in Torts, Contracts, and Property, for example. Alternatively, you may opt to focus on areas of particular interest or relevance to your career goals, tailoring your selection to meet your individual needs. Or, finally, you might choose to fulfill the requirements to earn one of the designated LL.M. concentrations.

Concentration Areas
- Business Law
- Criminal Law
- Dispute Resolution (nationally recognized as one of the top programs)
- Intellectual Property and Information Law
- International and Comparative Law
- Labor and Employment Law

The Ohio State University

The Ohio State University is one of the largest research universities in the world. Our university is very global in nature, with more than 6,500 international students on campus each year and faculty and researchers from many countries. In addition, each year, almost 3,000 Ohio State students pack their bags to study abroad in a wide range of countries. Ohio State has facilities called Global Gateways in China, India, and Brazil.

As one of America’s largest universities, Ohio State has excellent resources for students and offers a rich campus life. Our students have access to multiple libraries, fitness facilities, theaters, restaurants, concert venues, art galleries, medical facilities, and more.

Master of Laws for Foreign-Trained Lawyers

One Year, Endless Possibilities

www.moritzlaw.osu.edu/admissions/llm  •  moritzllm@osu.edu
MoritzLLM@osu.edu  •  +1-614-292-1241