Voter ID: Reasonable Impediment
:60 TV

We all want to be recognized because sometimes we want to have our voice heard.

And North Carolina wants to make sure we recognize you when you come to make your voice heard at the voting booth.

This election, voters will be asked to show a photo ID at the polls.

For most voters, you can simply bring your North Carolina Drivers License or ID card, passport, military or Veterans Affairs ID or certain tribal IDs.

And, if there's something preventing you from getting one, no worries – you'll still be able to vote. Just come to the polls and we'll help you cast your ballot.

It's important that every North Carolinian who wants to vote is able to do so.

This election, be recognized.

Because every voice matters.
