

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF WISCONSIN

ONE WISCONSIN INSTITUTE, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

Case No. 15-CV-324

GERALD C. NICHOL, et al.,

Defendants.

DECLARATION OF CAPTAIN DAVID FISH

I, David Fish, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, hereby declare as follows:

1. I am currently a State Patrol Captain the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (DOT), Division of State Patrol. I have been employed at DOT Division of State Patrol since July 5, 1998.

2. My responsibilities as Captain include a wide variety of law enforcement activities, including enforcing state statutes and transportation codes throughout the State of Wisconsin. I also supervise, mentor, and evaluate state patrol lieutenants, sergeants, and troopers assigned to my work units. In addition, I assist in quality-control investigations throughout the state. In my 18 years of service with the division I have received training in situation-specific interviewing and investigations, public speaking, information gathering techniques, and observation skill training.

3. Earlier this week I was requested to visit several DMV service stations throughout the state to gather information on what the requirements would be for someone with limited access to identification items to obtain the ability to vote in the upcoming November election. We were instructed to request information for a relative that did not have a birth certificate but wanted an ID to vote in the November election. These requests for information gathering were part of an ongoing quality-control investigation. I was not in uniform during these DMV visits.

4. On October 5–6, 2016, I visited the following DMV locations: Baraboo, Reedsburg, Richland Center, Platteville, Darlington, Madison West, Madison Odana Road, Sheboygan, and Manitowoc.

5. I lawfully audio-recorded my interactions with the DMV employees at each of these nine DMV locations. Transcriptions of my audio recordings were arranged by Department of Transportation staff and are attached as follows:

Exhibit 102: Wisconsin Department of Transportation,
DMV Recording—Baraboo

Exhibit 106: Wisconsin Department of Transportation,
DMV Recording—Reedsburg

Exhibit 111: Wisconsin Department of Transportation,
DMV Recording—Richland Center

Exhibit 115: Wisconsin Department of Transportation,

Exhibit 116: Wisconsin Department of Transportation,

Exhibit 121: Wisconsin Department of Transportation,
DMV Recording— Madison Odana Rd

Exhibit 126: Wisconsin Department of Transportation,
DMV Recording— Sheboygan

Exhibit 129: Wisconsin Department of Transportation,
DMV Recording— Manitowoc

6. During the nine DMV visits outlined above, I do not recall ever being told that I could not get an ID for voting for my hypothetical relative. I do not recall ever being told that I needed to obtain a birth certificate or any other documents before they would help my relative get an ID for voting purposes. I do not recall ever being told that I needed a birth certificate to get an ID for voting purposes. I was provided information (written, verbal, or both) at every DMV location on how to get an ID for voting purposes without a birth certificate.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Dated this 7th day of October, 2016.

MAN 1: Hi. How are you doing? I've just got a quick question [inaudible] . . .

MAN 2: Sure.

MAN 1: Um, my mother-in-law moved up here from Florida.

MAN 2: Sure.

MAN 1: Um, she just flew up, left all her stuff down there. Um, she's living with us now for about a month. Does, I know with the new voter ID, what does she need? She, she has a Social Security card, but everything . . .

MAN 2: Sure.

MAN 1: . . . else is still in Florida.

MAN 2: Um, there's a lot of different [sighs] processes now, and it depends on . . .

MAN 1: Okay.

MAN 2: . . . what kind of card she's going to ultimately get. Rather than speculating on, you know, what she's going to need . . .

MAN 1: Okay.

MAN 2: . . . what she has, we have a number that we just kind of request you call in and they [inaudible] . . .

MAN 1: Okay

MAN 2: . . . get through the exact process. If there's documents needed, they can tell you what [inaudible, walks away from counter] . . .

[Woman at next counter, unrelated conversation]

MAN 2: The best thing you can do is just be calling this number . . .

MAN 1: Okay.

MAN 2: . . . and, uh, they can tell you everything Voter ID. [Laughs].

MAN 1: Okay. Yeah. She's never had a license. She has . . .

MAN 2: Sure.

MAN 1: . . . Social Security, and all she wants to do is make sure she can vote, so . . .

MAN 2: Exactly. And we'll, we'll be able to get her something that she can use . . .

MAN 1: O-, okay. So she will be able to?

MAN 2: Yep.

MAN 1: Okay. All right.

MAN 2: So, yep.

MAN 1: Thank you much. [Inaudible, papers shuffling, leaving office]. This is Captain [inaudible] Fish. I just left the Baraboo site. It's October 5th. It's about 12:30 p.m.

MAN: I had my mother-in-law moved here from Florida.

WOMAN: Lucky you.

MAN: Yes. Um, [laughs], anyway, she's [inaudible] live with us for the month. Um, she flew up. All of her stuff's still in Florida. She's never had a driver's license . . .

WOMAN: Um, okay.

MAN: She wants to vote.

WOMAN: Okay.

MAN: She has a Social Security card with her, but everything else is in Florida yet.

WOMAN: Okay. So, [pause], [inaudible], because they travel we don't have, have it here with me, but let me see what I can get you. Um, we can't [inaudible] what we could use until we see what she has, um, and then they'll just scan it all in and mail it down to Madison all at the same time. So when you come in with her, bring anything possible that you can, um, that proves her. Does she have a F-, Florida ID?

MAN: No.

WOMAN: No?

MAN: She's never had a license, so . . .

WOMAN: Okay. Let me [inaudible].

MAN: Yeah. Her concern is just so she can vote in the . . .

WOMAN: Yep. And that's perfect- . . .

MAN: . . . election coming up.

WOMAN: We can get her something. It's just, let me get you [inaudible], [pause]. [Inaudible]. Where is it?

[Background noise, unrelated discussion 1:12-3:19]

WOMAN: I got it [inaudible], so you can take that one with you. But, yeah, just have her bring in a Social Security card in, uh . . .

MAN: Because she is required to have an ID to vote now. Right?

WOMAN: Yeah.

MAN: Yeah.

WOMAN: And then we can just get her, we can get her to [inaudible] this . . .

MAN: And that won't be a problem prior to November 2nd?

WOMAN: Correct. [Inaudible] be able to get her something [inaudible].

[Background noise, unrelated discussion 3:38 – 4:18]

WOMAN: This is kind of [inaudible] just to give you an example of what we can give you. And then let me, there's kind of like a checklist [inaudible] I can give you guys too.

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: And if you can just bring it [inaudible] with her and then we'll [inaudible]. This is the form that you'll want to fill out . . .

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: And this is kind of the checklist of what we go through, so. All right? Just bring as much in as possible and bring her in, and we'll get the [inaudible] going and then we'll send everything down.

MAN: Sounds like a plan.

WOMAN: All right?

MAN: Thank you very much.

WOMAN: [Inaudible].

MAN: It's October 5th, 1:30, uh, just leaving the Reedsburg facility, uh, with the information on the Voter ID.

WOMAN: What can we do for you?

MAN: I had a call, uh, from my wife's [inaudible] mother-in-law moved in from Florida about a month ago with us.

WOMAN: Okay.

MAN: She's staying with us. [Sighs]. Um, she lived in Florida prior to, she's never had a license. She wants to vote in the upcoming election. Now her stuff is still in storage in Florida. Uh, she has her Social Security card. I guess, uh, I know in Wisconsin you're required to show an ID to vote.

WOMAN: Mm-hmm.

MAN: So what does sh- . . .

WOMAN: We can get her fixed up.

MAN: Okay. What does she need to do in order to vote for the presidential election?

WOMAN: Well, she's going to bring in whatever documents she has.

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: And then what we'll do is have her fill out an application, which she can, you can take them with yer- . . .

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: . . . if you'd like. [Pause]. [Inaudible] quite a few today, so these go with that. So this would be the application. And if she doesn't have everything, there's a process where the government will check into that through other agencies . . .

MAN: Okay. Yeah . . .

WOMAN: . . . the DOT.

MAN: . . . because she's never had an ID or a driver's license, so.

WOMAN: And the, um, [pause], what she'll have to do is fill this out.

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: And then for the missing information, they'll be doing that check. Basically, you said she didn't have the birth certificate, so they check with Vital Records, and they do that behind the scenes . . .

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: They can do this all within a week, which that'll allow her plenty of time. So the bottom line thing I can say is she's going to fill this all out. If sh-, if there's information she doesn't know, she doesn't have to worry about.

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: This is ours, but she would do everything . . .

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: . . . up until that. And she was born in the United States, you said . . .

MAN: Yes.

WOMAN: . . . so that, so that'll kind of simplify things for her.

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: And bring in anything that she has, the Social Security card . . .

MAN: [Inaudible].

WOMAN: . . . would be great. If she had proof of residency, which she probably doesn't have.

MAN: No. She's only been living with us for a month, so . . .

WOMAN: Okay. So she doesn't, is she going to have like a bank account or anything?

MAN: Not yet. She has everything in Florida yet, s- . . .

WOMAN: Nope. So have her fill these out, bring that in, because to ge-, to get that started, we need the picture.

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: Her photo. So we're here 7:00 to 5:00, [pause], Mondays and Wednesdays. You want me to write that down?

MAN: Yeah. If you would, please.

WOMAN: You live right here in town?

MAN: No. I was traveling through and she called. Uh, and I'm like, well, I know she needs an ID. I just don't know the process, so that's why I stopped in. But, uh, so . . .

WOMAN: Okay. Where are you located?

MAN: Madison area.

WOMAN: Oh, okay.

MAN: So . . .

WOMAN: Well, what I would encourage you to do, you probably m-, won't bring her out here, but fill these out in full . . .

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: . . . take her in with whatever documentation she has, and we'll be sure to help her out. Alright? If you ya-, if you or she has any other questions, don't hesitate to call that number.

MAN: All right. Thank you much.

WOMAN: Okay? Thank you.

MAN 2: What does she need to vote?

MAN 1: Because I know she needs a photo ID.

MAN 2: Mm-hmm. [Pause]. Okay. We do have a procedure that, that we [inaudible], get the voting identification.

MAN 1: Okay.

MAN 2: Okay? And no cost to it, and that you receive it within about five days once everything's completed.

MAN 1: Okay.

MAN 2: Okay?

MAN 2: So I'll give you the documentation that you need.

MAN 1: So she gets this in, she'll easily make the, uh, the election. If she gets this in, you said, about five days?

MAN 2: Once, once we've entered the information into the system, we send it up to our section in Madison . . .

MAN 1: Okay.

MAN 2: . . . and within five days, we'll actually s-, send her a temporary one . . .

MAN 1: Okay.

MAN 2: . . . good for 60 days.

MAN 1: Perfect.

MAN 2: Okay?

MAN 1: All right. That's . . .

MAN 2: Any questions?

MAN 1: No.

MAN 2: [Inaudible] documentation?

MAN 1: Yeah. Please.

MAN 2: All right. This is information we give out to everyone here. Okay. If you have a question, you can contact th-, the section that actually produces [inaudible].

MAN 1: Okay.

MAN 2: Okay? And this is the petition that needs to be filled out, and then we will process and gather the information. Okay?

MAN 1: Okay.

MAN 2: Any information that she brings in would be greatly app-, appreciated . . .

MAN 1: Okay.

MAN 2: . . . if she has nothing, we can still go through the procedure.

MAN 1: Sounds perfect.

MAN 1: What can I do for you, sir?

MAN 2: Uh, quick question for you. Just driving by, got a call from my wife. My mother-in-law just moved in with us about a month ago from Florida.

MAN 1: Okay.

MAN 2: She flew up. She's never had an ID down there. Um, her stuff is still in storage in Florida. So she has her Social Security card, but she wants to vote. And I know Wisconsin now you need an ID to vote.

MAN 1: Mm-hmm.

MAN 2: So what does she need to do in order to vote in November?

MAN 1: You want me to give you the paperwork . . .

MAN 2: Yeah. I'm just kind of wondering what the process is, and . . .

MAN 1: Um, [pause], let me grab it here. What we do is we'll have her come in, and [inaudible] put in all new computers, so everything's [inaudible] . . .

MAN 2: [Laughs]. Understandable.

MAN 1: That's one of them. And here is the other.

MAN 2: Administration . . .

MAN 1: Okay?

MAN 2: . . . petition. [Inaudible].

MAN 1: And she'll just fill those out.

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: Um, come in. We'll get a photo of her. Okay? Then I call up to Madison, and I scan all this . . .

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: . . . up to them. And then what they'll do is they will, uh, and it ta-, takes five days.

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: And she'll get . . .

MAN 2: So plenty of time to vote . . .

MAN 1: . . . and she'll get a color, uh, ID for voting only.

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: Now if she wants to get her, um, certified copy of her birth certificate, Social Security card, and then, oh, um, something with her address on it. She got a cell phone?

MAN 2: Yes.

MAN 1: Is that going to be rebilled up here?

MAN 2: Uh, I imagine she will. I think she's going to live up here for a while, so . . .

MAN 1: Okay. So, um, she'd bring in that, and, um, should be good to go.

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: Should be good to go.

MAN 2: Perfect. [Inaudible].

MAN 1: I-, it's, it's kind of a, I don't want to say a lengthy process, but it's, uh, a little bit of a process to get it done . . .

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: . . . but we'll gladly try to help her.

MAN 2: Okay. [Inaudible] said before November shouldn't be a problem.

MAN 1: Yeah.

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: And if, if, you know, [inaudible] and something with her address on or whatever, and we're getting close to November, we'll even go to the [inaudible] to her just so she'll get [inaudible] because we want to make sure everybody gets something to vote with.

MAN 2: All right. Sounds good.

MAN 1: . . . something to vote with.

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: Right? So if you want to give her that.

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: Give that a call. Um . . .

MAN 2: Okay. And what does she need to s-, anything she needs to fill out, or is it just . . .

MAN 1: Well, there will eventually, [sighs], well, I'll give you this. This is the application for it. Just the top . . .

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: . . . is necessary. Um, so if you want to have her fill that out.

MAN 2: Okay. And then she mails it in, brings it in?

MAN 1: Sh- w-, she should bring it in maybe . . .

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: . . . you guys just bring her in. You can b-, I mean, you can go to any DMV for that.

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: Even the, even the Odana one, which is an express, even e-, well, never, uh, not the Odana, because it's a petition process one. But, um, then tha- . . .

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: . . . and then when you come in . . .

MAN 2: [Inaudible].

MAN 1: . . . they'll tell you about the petition process on there.

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: So that they can actually get her something so she can vote, you know, something that should arrive within . . .

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: . . . five days.

MAN 2: But sh-, she should be able to get something prior to the November election . . .

MAN 1: Yeah. Mm-hmm.

MAN 2: . . . to vote?

MAN 1: You bet.

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: Yeah, yeah, yeah. W-, w-, they'll tell you all about it on that, on that phone number there.

MAN 2: Okay.

MAN 1: You'll come in. We'll do the petition process, and then, uh, she'll have something within five days.

WOMAN: Okay.

MAN: I guess my question is, what does she need to do to vote?

WOMAN: Well, we have a couple options. Okay. For our station to issue her receipt right away . . .

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: . . . we would need certain documents. And I'll give you a list of what . . .

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: . . . the documents are. If she doesn't have any of the documents, we have what's called ID Petition process, and that's pretty much what it is. It's a petition where you would fill out a form providing their information.

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: Madison will review it. Madison will send them an ID receipt by mail within six business days . . .

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: . . . so that they will be able to use that for voting purposes [inaudible].

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: This is just a list of documents that would normally be asked for. She can bring as much as she's able to bring in. That is the actual application.

MAN: Okay. [Pause].

WOMAN: If, for some reason, they're unable to provide the documents that is requested . . .

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: . . . um, this is the petition process. You would fill out both forms and then bring it back to us.

MAN: Okay. And is there a number on her she can call if she has questions, or?

WOMAN: Um, let's see. I think [inaudible] this number. That's our general . . .

MAN: Okay.

WOMAN: . . . number.

MAN: If she, uh, gets started on this, she'll be able to get something to be able to vote with?

CAPTAIN: I've got a question for you.

MAN: Sure.

CAPTAIN: Um, my mother-in-law moved up here to Wisconsin from Florida to live with us.

MAN: During the hurricane?

CAPTAIN: About a month, yeah, it was about a month ago when she moved up.

MAN: Okay. Good timing.

CAPTAIN: So she's been up here for a little while. Um, she's been living with us. She didn't, she's never had a Florida ID or driver's license.

MAN: Oh, really? Okay.

CAPTAIN: What she does have right now is her social security card. The rest of her stuff is in storage down there.

MAN: Okay.

CAPTAIN: So I guess my question to you is what does she need to vote, and what's the process for that?

MAN: Okay. How this is going to work is we're so close to voting now, has sh-, well, I guess it was already, has she ever had a license or ID in any state?

CAPTAIN: No.

MAN: Never driven before?

CAPTAIN: No.

MAN: Okay. So in this case, if whatever she has, bring in. We, to get, to get an ID, like a regular ID card, we need birth certificate or passport, so proof of date of birth, proof of social security, and then proof of address. So we'd have those, it's actually those three things. Um, now there's a, there's an ID petition process that we have to get somebody an ID to vote if they don't have anything. Um, but she, is she able to come here and take a picture at least?

CAPTAIN: Yep, yep.

MAN: Okay. So let me just get you some stuff here. [Pause] So how the process works for her to get an ID, unless she gets like a birth certificate, was she born in Wisconsin or . . .

CAPTAIN: No. She's in Florida, and that's where her birth cert-, everything is in storage.

MAN: Everything, okay.

CAPTAIN: She flew up a month ago.

MAN: Okay, gotcha. So to kind, to at least get something for, for the, for the election and be able to vote is what's called the ID petition process. It is not a regular ID, which is what this would, this would give you. It gives, this gives you voting, basically, basic voting privileges, I guess. It is for a voter ID. So it's to get, it's to get, at least get somebody something so they can vote.

CAPTAIN: Okay.

MAN: So what she does is she's going to fill out everything on here to the best of her ability. And somebody obviously is going to be helping her with it. And then this here, this is, um, what the receipt looks like when they come in and actually get it. So the receipt comes in the mail, the paper receipt. So this looks just like a regular driver's license receipt that we would give someone. It's just because we're not seeing like a name-and-date-of-birth products. Everything goes through Madison. They contact Florida, saying, is this person who this is? Yep, so they make sure and verify identity. And then this receipt comes in within five business days.

CAPTAIN: Okay.

MAN: She can use that. And then, an actual, an actual plastic card may take a little bit longer. But so somebody can use something to vote, this is what we give them.

CAPTAIN: Okay.

MAN: So what she would need to bring in is, I mean, anything that she has, anything with her name on it. Um, if she doesn't have anything, I guess we still put her through the process. I mean, if you can find something, it definitely helps as far as identity, helping Madison figure out, you know, where they need to call, who they need to get a hold of, stuff like that. So the more information you can bring with her name on it, the better, even if it's a photocopy of a license or a photocopy of a social security card, something, and then something . . .

CAPTAIN: She has her social security card.

MAN: Perfect. That's even, that's, that's great. And then is there anything that she gets in the mail to the, to the house?

CAPTAIN: Her normal bills.

MAN: Perfect. Bring in a bill. So a social security card, bring in a bill, and anything else you can think of as far as that we would probably use as identity. I mean, I can think of a thousand different things, but whatever you got, that's what we, that's what we'll take in. We scan everything into the system, uh, send an e-mail down to Madison. We, um, basically send this down with a bunch of stuff we sent to Madison. They get the ball rolling on that, and they contact her. So when nobody has a dat-, like a birth certificate or passport, this is the process we put them through.

CAPTAIN: Okay. Either way, she'll get something that will allow her to vote.

MAN: She'll get something, oh, absolutely, yep. Absolutely. So I will give you these two things. And when she comes here, we'll give you these. Actually, I'll give you this. This is a takeaway letter we usually, and if you've got any questions, you're more than welcome to call the number in case something else, but when she leaves, we hand her this, say this is what it's going to look like, five business days the paper is going to show up.

CAPTAIN: Excellent. Thank you very much.

MAN: You're welcome.

[Walking out of the DMV office, 3:57 – 4:22]

CAPTAIN: Currently leaving, uh, Manitowoc DMV station with a pamphlet, or the flier, with the phone number and the DMV administrative petition document and an ID card application. Uh, leaving now, this is Captain Fish(?). Thanks.
