Our Heavenly Father, your servant, Moses, not only brought law and order to his people, but provided the foundation upon which laws are established today. May each member of the house breathe in a fresh sense of divinely ordained duty and their stamina renewed as they consider legislation regarding the affairs of our state. May their noble work bring forth laws which will protect our freedoms, enhance life for individuals, and insure rule and order in our society.

We thank you that you have created the men and women in this room with passion about their opinions on appropriate governing policy. I pray that you will endow these representatives, whether on the debate floor or in the committee room, with self-control and honorable statesmanship equal to their passion allowing true corporate wisdom to prevail in this 80th Legislature.
Where there is misunderstanding, bring order and clarity; where there is inclination toward vindictiveness, soften reactions with mature responses; where there is adherence to insignificant matters, bring wisdom that keeps perspective; where compromise would lead to deterioration of our society, bring resolve to stand firm; where compromise would lead to good policy, bring willingness to concede.

Bless this chamber with wisdom to discern good from evil, and courage to stand for good; grant wisdom to distinguish short-term from long-term benefits and conviction to stand for that which will last; fill this chamber with wisdom to discern the founding principles that have made this state great and conviction to hold fast to those moorings even when they conflict with popular opinion. May these legislators have the hallmark of diligently sifting through stacks of good ideas and passing only the best and necessary pieces of legislation.

Lord, we are thankful to live in the State of Texas and for the spiritual heritage of the people of this land. By our conduct, may we continue to seek the God of our fathers, and thereby make laws consistent with the spiritual and historic stature of Texas, so blessed by you.

Almighty God, we pray that you will continue to bless the efforts of the Texas House of Representatives and the citizens which these members represent. In Jesus' name I pray. Amen.

   (1) the voter's name on the registration certificate or form of identification is on the list of registered voters for the precinct;
   (2) the precinct is located in a county that the governor proclaimed to be in a state of disaster under Section 418.014, Government Code, due to a weather-related event; and
   (3) the date of the election is before the first anniversary of the date the state of disaster expires.

AMENDMENT NO. 9 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE B. BROWN: Mr. Leibowitz, your amendment is dealing with future disasters.

REPRESENTATIVE LEIBOWITZ: Yes, ma'am.

B. BROWN: We hope we never have one, but chances are something would happen, and in that case, and you don't have in mind a drought?
LEIBOWITZ: No.

B. BROWN: Or anything that would not interfere with a person's normal activity, so that they couldn't—so that they'd still have access to their ID, their records, their papers, and so on. So you're talking about a severe natural disaster that would disrupt daily life to the point that someone would not have access to their records, is that correct?

LEIBOWITZ: Yes, ma'am, that's correct, and if Rita had hit Houston head-on, and there had been significant devastation, all this says is that from after the state of disaster expires, the proclamation by the governor, from a year from that date of the expiration of the proclamation of disaster forward, that if someone cannot present the two IDs, then they're still going to be allowed to vote.

B. BROWN: It would revert to present law.

LEIBOWITZ: Yes.

B. BROWN: Isn't that what you were going to say?

LEIBOWITZ: Yes, if they were in a county that was part of the declaration of disaster by the governor's office.

B. BROWN: And they were registered voters?

LEIBOWITZ: Yes, ma'am.

B. BROWN: Showing on the records that they were registered voters, it would revert to present law?

LEIBOWITZ: Yes, ma'am.

B. BROWN: And your intent is not to interfere with the intent of my bill?

LEIBOWITZ: No, I was concerned about Rita hitting Houston, and terrible devastation, and an election being three weeks later, for example.

B. BROWN: And the period of one year, you set for what reason?

LEIBOWITZ: I just thought that was a reasonable period of time from the date, given that we have election cycles and elections don't happen every day or every week, or even every month, that that would be a reasonable period of time to allow someone, between the time they're digging the mud out of their homes, and bailing the water out, and trying to reconstruct their lives, that it would be a reasonable period of time within which they could have to get their duplicate documents.

HB 218 - REMARKS

REPRESENTATIVE ANCHIA: Members, I'm going to be brief, this has been a long day. The debate has gone on for, oh boy, about six hours and this is what we learned. We've learned that the authors of this bill have provided not one shred of evidence of voter impersonation, which is the type of voter fraud this bill gets at. We have learned that upwards of two million Texans may be disenfranchised by this bill. We have learned that the sense of this body is not to prosecute the offenders and not to set up and devote resources to engage a prosecuting voter impersonation.

So, let me tell you what I know it's not about. This is clearly not about voter fraud, it's not about voter impersonation, it's not about expanding the franchise, it's not about protecting those that are least vulnerable in our society, and it's not about making sure that elections are more secure, and I'll tell you why. I've been saving this wonderful nugget for you guys until the end. If you look at the list of documents that you can offer up, it includes employee identification. No matter how much training you do with poll workers, no matter how much training you do of election judges and election officials, it will be impossible for them to discern what is a valid employment identification and what is an invalid employment identification. Mr. Talton probably has an identification for his law firm. It would be impossible for me to tell whether it was valid or invalid or whether Joe Deshotel's face was on it or whether it was correct or not. In fact, you can go down to Kinko's and have a bogus little ID made and say that you're an employee of whatever organization you want to be for about five dollars. In fact, this bill, rather than increasing the integrity of elections, makes sure that there's a huge loophole that you can drive a train through to increase voter fraud that was what was crossing the mind of a particular person.

We know that there's no evidence of it, but if this body wants to create an opportunity for voter fraud then vote for HB 218. In fact, that Section 3 part (a) of HB 218 creates a wonderful opportunity for people at a low cost to be able to impersonate someone else by saying that this is a valid employee ID and no poll worker, no election worker, no election judge will be able to discern a valid from an invalid ID. Furthermore, there's another wonderful loophole in this bill that creates a glaring weakness. It essentially allows vote by mail to continue without photo identification. Vote by mail, that we know, is the greatest source of voter fraud in this state. In fact, all of the prosecutions by the attorney general—I shouldn't say all, but a great majority of the prosecutions by the attorney general occur with respect to vote by mail.

So ladies and gentlemen, you have a pig on your hands. It's an ugly bill. It creates more of an opportunity for voter fraud than current law, and I will tell you that if you vote for this without any commensurate enforcement like what was offered up in Representative Strama’s bill, you are voting for a pig with no lipstick, and it’s going to be nasty. So I urge you, members of this body, to please vote against the loopholes that this bill creates and vote against the opportunities of voter fraud that this creates and vote against HB 218.

REPRESENTATIVE BURNAM: I particularly want to thank Rafael Anchia for the leadership role he’s taken, both on the Elections Committee and today, and I’m only going to add a few words from my hometown daily paper, the Star-Telegram today. The opening paragraph, "An insidious scheme to turn back the clock on voting rights in Texas tragically has once again made it’s way to the state house floor. The architects of this idea pitched as a noble effort to prevent voter fraud cannot be allowed to succeed with what is surely one of the greatest assaults on the right to vote in this state since the passage of The Federal Voting Rights Act in 1965." Racism is racism, xenophobia is xenophobia. It’s too bad that we’re going to see it enacted on the house floor again.

REMARKS ORDERED PRINTED

Representative Thompson moved to print all closing remarks on HB 218.

The motion prevailed.

REPRESENTATIVE VEASEY: Mr. Speaker, members, thank you very much. I’ll be very brief. I want to start off by thanking some of the folks that have helped bring attention to this voter ID, or what I call a voter suppression bill. First of all, I’d like to thank the Baptist General Convention of Texas. They put out a pamphlet, a flier today asking members to please oppose this bill. I think that’s significant because the Civil Rights Movement back when we were going through a lot of these issues that we’re facing today—and don’t be mistaken about it—this is a Civil Rights issue that we are debating today. But back during the ’60s the black ministers and everyone else that marched for freedom, that marched for voting rights, rarely did any of the white pastors from the South join in, and the fact that the Baptist General Convention joined in shows that we are making some progress in this country on racial harmony.

Unfortunately, this bill sets us back. We have heard absolutely no evidence of any voter impersonation today, absolutely none. I think that Representative Strama and Representative Anchia pointed that out very eloquently. All of the amendments and everything that Ms. Brown has offered you today is asking you to vote for this bill based on generalizations, and based on stereotypes, and based on things that are untrue. There has been absolutely not one shred of evidence, and we’re voting for this bill today. It makes absolutely no sense, and especially in light of what’s going on with the attorney general in the State of Texas. They were trying to force U.S. attorneys to say that there was voting fraud going on in their respective districts in there respective states so they could produce convictions that would prove voter impersonation. The panel, the U.S. panel who looked into this, found none. They had to help doctor some of the findings to make their findings more compelling. And I think that it’s time that—instead of 15 or 20 years from now—because, you know, when we look down the road this is going to be embarrassing that we even voted for this. But right now people are doing this because people think that it's the popular thing to do. It's the wrong way that our state is heading, and I'm going to ask you, and I know that the amendments haven't been going favorable, but I'm going to ask everybody here today to do the right thing and vote no on this bill.

REPRESENTATIVE CASTRO: Mr. Speaker, members, the bill that we have in front of us is a perversion of our American democracy for several reasons. The first reason, it makes it too hard for honest people to go to the polls and vote, and it makes it too easy for dishonest people to cheat and find a way to vote. The list of exceptions that were added to this bill, rather it's the one that Rafael Anchía pointed out, a valid ID from a business. We'll never be able to tell what those valid IDs look like. Or even a student ID that can be falsified. A bill sent to a home that can easily be falsified. All of those additions actually make it easier for somebody to go out and commit the kind of fraud that we're trying to protect against today. And yet, it's the people who are actually honest who suffer.

It's ironic that we've heard many of the arguments that we've heard today. For instance, when we talk about the second amendment and the right to bear arms, we often hear the argument that we shouldn't punish those who rightfully bear arms to go after the few that would get those guns illegally anyway. That philosophy predominates this legislature. But for some reason, that philosophy was missing in the discussion of this bill today.

Earlier in the session, earlier today, I handed out a listing of where Texas ranked in 2002 in terms of voter turnout. We're about five or six months removed from our November races when everybody went out and campaigned, knocked on doors, put up signs, worked the polls on election day. You all remember the intensity in which you're trying to get people to vote, all that effort, all that energy. And in 2002, we ranked second to last in the nation in the number of people who come out to vote as compared to our voting age population. There's no question today that this piece of legislation will drive our numbers down even further, and in a few years, I wouldn't be surprised if we ranked dead last in the nation in voter turnout. We rank second in terms of population in the United States, second only to California. We rank fourth in voter turnout behind the states of New York and Florida.

We also heard a lot about fiscal notes. We're passing this bill despite the fact that it has a fiscal note. We defeated amendments because they had fiscal notes. And although money is one way to measure loss, and a very popular one, it's not the only way. And I can't help but think that there is a democracy note here, and that the democracy cost here is even more than the fiscal cost to our state.

REPRESENTATIVE MACIAS: Thank you, Mr. Speaker and members. First, I would like to thank Representative Brown for bringing this bill to the floor. Could the reason be that we don't have any on-going voter impersonation investigations be that we don't have a system that requires voter identity verification? I believe HB 218 will be that tool that detects and deters voter impersonation, but even more than that, it will preserve and protect our most basic right to vote, and give us the confidence that those who turn out to vote are, in fact, qualified voters. The goal of the bill is to bring the highest integrity possible to our most precious and basic right to vote, and I just encourage us to vote yes on this bill.

REPRESENTATIVE B. BROWN: Thank you, Mr. Speaker and members. Thank you for staying all afternoon and into the evening, and thank you for all of you who believed in this bill, and helped with it, helped to improve it, and especially to former Representative Mary Denny, who paved the way for us when she carried it in the last session. I am not going to waste a lot of your time, because I think we’ve all made up our minds if we’re going to support this bill or not, but I will remind you that there have been a lot of accusations, or I should say claims, made about it that I believe in my heart are not true. The Supreme Court has upheld the fact that this is not a poll tax that we are instituting by requiring of people that they merely prove who they say they are when they come in to vote. This is, and I think that all that needs to be said now is just to close with a statement from the U.S. Supreme Court.

REPRESENTATIVE DUNNAM: If I show up at the polls, under your bill, without my voter registration card, but with five photo IDs, will my vote count? Without my voter registration card, but with five photo IDs, will I get to vote?

B. BROWN: One photo ID will be entirely sufficient, so long as you are on the voter registration roll.

DUNNAM: And are you saying that if I have my photo, if I do not have my voter registration card, that I don’t get a provisional ballot?

B. BROWN: You do get a provisional ballot.

DUNNAM: So if I show up without a voter ID card, my voter registration card, but with five government photo IDs, will I get a provisional ballot, correct?

B. BROWN: You would have a provisional ballot, because you need to bring your voter registration card with you.

DUNNAM: And my vote won’t count.

B. BROWN: It will be a provisional ballot. Let me just read this one quote from the U.S. Supreme Court decision that recognizes the merit of photo identification cards for voting. In removing an injunction against Arizona’s photo identification law, the U.S. Supreme Court’s per curiam opinion reads, "Confidence in the integrity of our electoral processes is essential to the functioning of our participatory democracy. Voter fraud drives honest citizens out of the democratic process and breeds distrust of our government. Voters who fear their legitimate votes will be outweighed by fraudulent ones, will feel disenfranchised." So, members, we want to increase the integrity of the process, and thereby increase voters' confidence in integrity of the process, and there will be more participation. Thank you, members. I move passage.

CLERK: HB 218 by Brown of Kaufman relating to requiring a voter to present proof of identification.

SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes Representative Brown of Kaufman.

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: Mr. Speaker, Members, this is the bill that we debated thoroughly yesterday, as well as last session, and I just need to clarify one thing.

There was a question asked very late in the debate, in fact, the very last question last night that we got a little -- hello -- that we got a little confused about and I'd like to clarify.

If you show up at the polls to vote, under my bill, you have your photo ID or two forms of nonphoto ID, you happen not to have your voter registration card but you are on the books as a registered voter, you will not be required to vote a provisional ballot. You'll vote a regular ballot.

So, I think -- I just wanted to make sure that everyone understood that.

And so, I move passage on the 3rd reading. Thank you very much.

SPEAKER: Members, if you want to state for or against this bill, come on down. We need to know. Any of the bills. Let us know ahead of time, please.
The Chair recognizes Ms. Giddings in opposition.

REPRESENTATIVE GIDDINGS: Thank you, Mr. Speaker and Members.

To Representative Brown and my good friend, Leo Berman, and my committee members, Mr. Bohac and others who have worked on this bill, let me say from the very beginning that I know that your intentions here are good and honorable, and I want to say that again.

I truly believe that your intentions are good and honorable, and I believe it is a sincere attempt on your part to stop voter fraud. None of us want that.

Corruption in voting, voter fraud is in no one's interest but, in my view, there is no problem. We don't have any documented evidence of a great deal of voter fraud.

Conversely, my own point of reference is my experience. I live in a city but I reside in a different school district and, on occasion, there have been things on the ballot that only have to do with that particular school district. I vote at a place other than my usual voting precinct when that happens.

On one occasion, with my voter registration in hand, I was told I could not vote without my driver's license.

I said, "That's not right." I even went so far as to say, "Ma'am, there is no question as to who I am. I'm an elected official, and there are lots of people in here who know me. I have my voter registration card," but, again, I was denied the right to vote.

I had to call the elections office to straighten out that matter because I refused to give my driver's license.

Nothing pains me more in this House than to be forced to talk about being black in America, and that is what I must talk about because that's my experience. That is the lens that I see through.

And even on those days when I try my very best not to look through that lens, I'm often forced to do it.

I keep praying that the day is near when we will be colorblind but that day is not here yet. If you look through my lens and if you have lived my experience -- and mine has been a fairly sheltered experience even so -- I am not confused about the right to vote and the absolute need to fight and not dismantle that right, a right that belongs to every American.

We believe in it so strongly that we send our military to risk their lives so that those in other countries may also have the right to vote.

I would like to share with you some words with -- from Langston Hughes. And I quote, Langston Hughes said, "Let America be America again. Let it be the dream it used to be. Let it be the pioneer on the plain seeking a home where he himself is free."

But then listen for the refrain. "America never was America to me. Oh, let my land be a land where liberty is crowned with no false patriot wreath but opportunity is real and life is free, equality is in the air we breathe. There has never been equality for me, nor freedom in this homeland of the free. Oh, let America be America again, the land that never has been yet and yet must be the land where every man is free, the land that's mine, the poor man, Indian" --

SPEAKER: Members -- Members, could you take your conversations outside the rail so Ms. Giddings can have your attention, please.

REPRESENTATIVE GIDDINGS: "Oh, let America be America again, the land that never has been yet and yet must be, the land where every man is free, the land that's mine, the poor man, the Indian, negro, me.
America, oh, yes, I say it plain, America never was America to me and yet I swear this oath, America will be America to me." End quote.

Members, for the sake of this great country, for my children and for yours, because you cannot erode one freedom without eroding a little of yours, I ask that your vote be one that encourages freedom, that encourages the right to vote, that values all Americans and all Texans. I ask you to join me in voting against this bill.

SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes Mr. Alonzo.

REPRESENTATIVE ALONZO: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Members.

Members, I rise also to speak against this bill. I think, as we discussed yesterday, this bill is the equivalent of voting on the Voting Rights Act, and that's what we talked about yesterday because on one point, it talks about participation and, you know, when we participated in the political process, the three -- there's three ways to participate; for, against and not participating.

What this bill does is discourage participation, discourage participation. Why does it do that, as we talked about all day yesterday, asking so many IDs to vote. The most important right we have here in the United States and Texas is to vote.

The way that we can exercise power as we have here and participate in the process is to vote. The way we can let our opinions known and have laws enacted is to vote and put people in office that are going to make this decision.

What this bill does, Members, is discourage the participation of the voters in the political process, discourage the participation in the electoral process.

This is wrong, Members. This is wrong. We shouldn't be discouraging people from participating. We should encourage people to participate.

And yet it has been said because of fraud that there is no -- no overabundance of evidence for this. And what has been said and what was the debate about and why was this legislation brought forward, to discourage people from voting, but not only to discourage people from voting, I think it discriminates people in voting, and that's why I brought an amendment forward to say that Texas, through the Attorney General's office, should review this legislation to see if it's against the law.

And the only, only reason that was argued against my amendment was that we are going to ask Washington to review whether this law discriminated or not. And the reason I brought forward -- and one day,
House Floor Debate, 3rd Reading

April 24, 2007

Members, I know that one day we'll not only have to ask Washington to do what we do but Texas will review what we do, as I said yesterday, we're doing.

Members, finally, I say this issue was decided in the last couple of years in Washington. Washington decided to extend the Voting Rights Act for another few years. So, as in Washington, in a bipartisan fashion, they approved the Voting Rights Act, I ask you, in a bipartisan fashion, that we vote no on this bill today.

Thank you.

SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes Representative Anchia.

REPRESENTATIVE ANCHIA: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Members. It is a day later and the authors of this bill still haven't provided any evidence of noncitizen -- excuse me -- of voter impersonation that would be covered by this bill. A day later and there's no provision in the bill to make sure that 2 million Texans are not disenfranchised.

It's a day later, and this bill is still a bad bill. I would ask you to vote against this bill.

Thank you.

SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes Mr. Berman.

REPRESENTATIVE BERMAN: Mr. Speaker,
Members, we had lots of research done and we received a lot of information concerning voter fraud. When Mr. Anchia said that there was no evidence whatsoever, when you have a couple of hundred people voting from the grave -- we have the list of names of individuals voting from the grave -- that, my friends, is voter fraud. There's just no question about it.

We also have over 4,000 names that were provided by Mr. Bettencourt, the elections administrator down in Harris County. Those people are actually dropped from the rolls because they're non-U.S. citizens.

And the way they were found really was very simple. There are two lists from whom jury pools are selected, first, the voter registration rolls and, second, from the driver's license rolls.

When people would receive their jury summons in Houston, they checked the box marked, "I am not a U.S. citizen." They received over 4,000 of those particular cards.

The elections administrator in Harris County matched those returned forms against the voter registration list and found that there were over 4,000 individuals who were actually on the voter registration list who were not qualified to vote, although 84 had already voted by that time. They were dropped from the rolls.

The reason that they were not prosecuted, according to the former District Attorney of Harris County, was that if he had a photo ID bill at that particular time back in the late 1990s and if we had a photo ID bill in existence at this particular time, then they would have a real charge to levy against those individuals. They could charge them and prosecute them in the court system and convict them for voter fraud.

We have all kinds of voter fraud in the state. We have voter fraud by mail ballot. We have voter fraud by dead people voting. And this has been a tradition in Texas for many, many years, as you probably know.

And we also have voter fraud by individuals being on the voter registration list who are noncitizens.

I think Ms. Brown stood here before you yesterday and she showed you there are over 14 million driver's licenses in the State of Texas. There's another 3.9 million ID cards issued in the State of Texas. That's almost 18 million cards that are already out there. We only have 12 and a half million registered voters in the State of Texas.

When we passed this bill yesterday, we took a step forward to prevent voter fraud in the State of Texas, and it was nothing but a good vote.

Mr. Speaker, Members, I ask you today to vote again for House Bill 218 to keep preventing voter fraud in Texas and to continue it in the future.

SPEAKER: Ms. Brown, for what purpose?

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: Would the gentleman yield for a question?

SPEAKER: Will you yield, Mr. Berman?

REPRESENTATIVE BERMAN: I yield.

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: Mr. Berman, why do you think it is that it's so hard to prosecute for voter fraud or for impersonating a voter?

REPRESENTATIVE BERMAN: Well, for the most part, the District Attorneys, especially in the large counties like Harris County, don't have the physical resources to prosecute some 4,000 people when they are prosecuting murders and rapists and people who are burglars and larcenists and -- they are prosecuting those individuals who are committing crimes against persons.

In my mind, voter fraud is like a white collar crime but it's also a crime against the person because it takes away from our precious right to vote and it makes our vote a lot less safer than it is.
I know after spending a couple of years in Vietnam in combat that people around the world would die to have the right to vote as we do here in the United States. And I was proud to be over there to help protect that right.

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: And we're grateful to you for your service.

There's one other thing that I think enters into this. In order for someone to actually testify that there's been fraud, that person has to witness that person voting and knowing -- and know that that person is not who they represented themselves as.

So, it's just extremely difficult. You just don't -- you don't have someone at the polls witnessing the act who can go and testify about it. The elections workers are -- have plenty -- all they can do. Believe me, I've worked a number of elections as an election judge, and I know how busy you can be when there's a long line and you're having to verify voters and get them to sign the proper form and issuing the ballots and telling them where to vote and all that sort of thing, and you're not -- that's just not something that you can handle at that time is to be looking for fraud and being able to document fraud. You have to just try to get those people voted, and so, it's extremely difficult.
REPRESENTATIVE BERMAN: Well, Betty, you're right. And it's an amazing thing that a state as large as Texas and a state as great with a great economy as we do, we have no system in place today to verify whether a name on a voter registration card is correct or not. We don't have anything like that.

Almost every country in the world has verification for voter registration and has verification when people actually come to vote.

And, you know, what I'm saying and what I told many people yesterday, I don't see why if a person has a voter registration card and they're able to take that voter registration card to the polling place, why they can't take an electric bill or a water bill or a gas bill or just one other -- one or two other documents along with their voter registration card to show that they are indeed the name of the person on the voter registration card.

Without any other system to verify whether a voter is the person on the voter registration card, it's very difficult and it's almost an impetus toward voter fraud in Texas.

And we have had voter fraud as long as Texas has been a state, going all the way back to the elections of LBJ and Ford, and we know about those voter frauds in Texas.

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: Aren't there more and more states that are passing legislation to implement ID at the polls?

REPRESENTATIVE BERMAN: Yes. Recently, nine states passed photo ID bills.

And the amazing thing about it is in every one of those states, voter turnout increased and it did not decrease. And that's very important.

In every one of those states -- like Hawaii, Hawaii is voting at 70 percent voter turnout. Texas is at 44.3 percent. In every state that passed the photo ID bill, they are exceeding Texas by far in voter turnout at the polls.

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: Don't you think this was a surprise to many people because there were such dire predictions about -- with the institution of -- or instigation of the voter -- photo ID at the polls, there were dire predictions about how the participation would decrease, and just the opposite happened. So, I think there were a lot of people that were very surprised about this.

REPRESENTATIVE BERMAN: Well, some of the things that we got on our desk yesterday really bothered me. One thing that said having people take an electric bill to a polling place or a water bill is insidious. That was the word that was used, it's an insidious act to ask people to take a document to the voting place to actually identify themselves.

I'm very proud to take any document to the voting place to identify myself, and I think yesterday -- we allow service members who were wounded in combat to actually just go by that process but even those service men who were wounded in combat would be glad to take out a driver's license or any other kind of photo ID because they risked their lives to do that and preserve our right to vote.

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: I'm sure they would be and especially with the disabled veterans who are on some kind of disability from the government, I think they would almost have to have a photo ID of some kind to be able to draw this disability. Am I wrong there or is that the case?

REPRESENTATIVE BERMAN: Most veterans, if you're retired from the military -- I have a retired card --

SPEAKER: (Inaudible) raised a point of order. The gentleman's time is expired. The point of order is well taken and sustained.

The Chair recognizes Mr. Christian.
REPRESENTATIVE CHRISTIAN: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I think it's come time in our session that we start looking to what Americans and Texans really want. What they want is the ability to raise their children in an environment where they have the American dream and opportunity. That's provided for years of war that we've fought across the world to allow us to be able to vote, to have a voice and to have an opinion and to participate in this system that our veterans who we honor have allowed to have in this country. Being able to vote is that basic right.

I know it was mentioned yesterday in Iraq that we saw the people come away proud with their purple fingers as they expressed their pride in being able to vote. And to think those people went and actually were sitting there risking their lives because they didn't know that there would be guns shooting, as there are every day in that place, to be able to have that right to vote.

In this institution of Texas, we have the privilege of doing that. These people had something invested as our veterans, as our country, as our families have.

I think this bill allows us again to have the security and pride that it is we Texans that are voting.

And if you start allowing everybody that walks into any place, though that may not be the mass situation as was expressed, if we continue to allow anybody that walks in to have the opportunity that we have had our veterans both give their lives and sacrifice their lives for, it takes away that value in the ability to be able to vote.

That's why today we have this opportunity in this bill to confirm to those that come after us that yes, it is a privilege, it is an earned privilege, it is a privilege we've been handed, it's not just a gift that we give away with no strings attached and anybody can do it and we need to make it just as easy for anybody just to walk in and cast that precious ballot.

You know, when we have children, we try to teach them in many cases while daddy wants to give them everything we can, we understand that many times that lesson we need to teach is that if you earn it, if there's something that you have to do that makes it a little bit more effort, then you value that more.

And that's why this bill is important. We want to put value, pride back into voting in this state. And our constituents are very concerned across this state that we protect their right to vote because they feel -- even though the facts may not show it, the feeling is there for those people who elected us to come to this House that their vote is no longer safe and secure, that somebody else is stealing that privilege that we have earned and we have precious in this country, and because they feel it, they are asking us to up that bar to make sure that this value of a vote is now more secure in the State of Texas.

We want to take care of those people that come to this country but we want them to participate legally in the system. We want them to be able to value that vote as we do as citizens but to not monitor, to not put up standards, to make it where we are not watching -- our voters all across this state are saying, "Protect my ballot," and that's what this bill does. It protects it. It sets a standard. It sets a purpose for which we, as a legislature, are here, and that's to secure the rights, to secure those efforts our veterans have fought, and this bill does that.

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: Mr. Chairman? Excuse me. Mr. Speaker? I'm sorry.

SPEAKER: Ms. Brown, for what purpose?

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: Will the gentleman yield for questions?

SPEAKER: Mr. Christian, do you yield?
REPRESENTATIVE CHRISTIAN: Yes, sir, I do.

SPEAKER: The gentleman yields.

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: Mr. Christian, are you aware of the recent poll that was taken of Texans, asking them if they thought we should have voter ID -- photo ID at the polls?

REPRESENTATIVE CHRISTIAN: I've been aware of several polls taken but especially I think the one that you're referring to actually shows that 95 percent of voters, 91 percent of Independent, 87 percent of Democrats favor registering voters to show a driver's license. And this was done this year, April 1st through 4th, during this legislative session. 90 -- 87 percent of Democrats, 91 percent of Independents and 95 percent of Republicans, almost consistent across the board, want a secure method of protecting their vote.

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: Was that limited to affluent people? Were those the only people that they polled?

REPRESENTATIVE CHRISTIAN: No. It was totally across the board, every economic status and totally bipartisan, totally across the board, poor, rich, moderate. Every type of American citizen, every kind of Texan wants protection of their ballot. So, they feel it's important and they feel when they cast a vote, it really means something.

Ms. Brown, if you'll remember several years back, the controversy that existed with our former governor, and there are those that to this day say because of the balloting problem of the (Inaudible) balloting out in Florida that the president really shouldn't be there.

Now, while I don't agree with them, I bet there's folks in this room right here today that still question that balloting process in Florida. And today we have the ability to secure that and we have the ability to tell Texans, "Your votes really mean something."

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: Do you know of any really, really close votes that have been decided by just a few votes recently?

REPRESENTATIVE CHRISTIAN: There are many votes. Not only the presidential election the last several times has done that, the number one office in our country, but votes all across the state.

You take the current governor's race that we had in this state was a very close election, you know, just a few votes one way or the other. That's why we must make sure that everybody's vote is important, is cast, is not diluted unintentionally.
REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: Are you telling me that even if there is a slight amount of voter fraud that would allow these close elections to be decided by an illegal vote that you don't think that's what we should be allowing?

REPRESENTATIVE CHRISTIAN: This is what our constituents in the 87 percent across the state have asked us, "Make sure, Legislature, that my vote means something and that my desire -- my vote can't be stolen away by somebody else."

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: Okay. Thank you, Mr. Christian.

REPRESENTATIVE CHRISTIAN: Thank you.

SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes Ms. Brown to close. The Chair recognizes Ms. Brown.

REPRESENTATIVE BROWN: Mr. Speaker, Members, just remember what this vote is all about. It's the integrity of the voting process and increasing our voters' confidence in that process so that we have greater participation.

I move passage. Thank you.

REPRESENTATIVE VEASEY: Mr. Speaker -- Mr. Speaker, does the gentlelady yield?

SPEAKER: Mr. Veasey, the lady said she's yielded the floor.
All members, the question occurs on the final passage of House Bill 218. All those in favor vote aye, all those opposed vote nay. It's a record vote. Clerk will ring the bell.

Members, show Mr. Flores who is present who would vote no, Mr. Branch, who is absent, would vote yes.

Have all voted?

There being 76 ayes and 69 nays and 2 present not voting, House Bill 218 has finally passed.
