Dear Group,

I know that all of you are now completing your final exams – and then moving on. For rising 2Ls, I hope that each of you feel good for having completed your first year of law school and that, after an appropriate “post-exam celebration and cool-down,” you are eager to engage in the next experiences of your accelerating law school career. For those completing your second year, bravo – you are 2/3 of the way there.

We want to communicate some reminders – and then add a final thought.

1. Contact information. Set out below – so that you have it in one spot – are the names of each of us at Moritz with responsibility for helping any or all of you with administrative aspects of engaging in the program.
   a. Laura Fernandez – Assistant Dean for International & Graduate Programs. Phone: 614-688-5328; email: Fernandez.214@osu.edu
   b. Yi Sun – International and Graduate Affairs Coordinator; Phone: 614-292-1241; email: sun.2661@osu.edu
   c. Marc Nawrocki – Assistant Director for Financial Aid; Phone: 614-292-8807; email: Nawrocki.8@osu.edu
   d. Joseph B. Stulberg – Professor and Co-Director; Phone: 614-292-8638; (mobile): 614-370-4558; email: stulberg.2@osu.edu

2. Financial matters. The fees you owe to OSU should all be correctly showing on your Statement of Accounts on Buckeyelink. ANY questions that you have regarding payment of fees/loan processing, etc. are matters that need to be addressed promptly. So please contact Marc Nawrocki (lawfinaid@osu.edu) – or your home-institution’s counterpart – to insure timely resolution of any challenges. If you are a non-OSU student, and have a consortium form that needs to be completed and processed from your home institution, please contact Marc as soon as possible.

3. Supplemental Health Insurance & Risk Management Database. Please complete all required applications and forms sent to you directly by OSU’s Office of International Affairs to make sure you are enrolled in the mandatory supplemental health insurance and risk management database.

4. Miscellaneous. If you have not picked up your visa letter from Yi Sun (341 Drinko Hall), or sent in your headshot (moritzoxford@osu.edu) please do so as soon as possible. Finally, please check that you are registered for the correct classes and write us at moritzoxford@osu.edu if you spot any issues. You will receive all reading materials for your classes upon arrival at Oxford.

5. Program statistics. Here are some program “statistics” (trivia?!?) about the current “pool” of students scheduled to participate in the Oxford program:

   - Total number of currently enrolled students: 28
   - Gender diversity: 16 females; 12 males
   - Law schools represented: 5 different law schools, including Moritz; Gonzaga; John Marshall School of Law; Thurgood Marshall School of Law; and University of Toledo.
   - Number of persons celebrating birthdays while in Oxford: 5
   - Course enrollments: individual class enrollments range from 9 to 20 students.

Final reminders:

This is the “final edition” of these weekly updates. Thanks for your patience in letting us communicate with you this way. Two final thoughts:
Next communications.

Between now and June 30, we will send you e-mail updates as needed but will plan to send you messages/updates during the week of May 27-31, 2019 and a final message during the week of June 17-21, just to stay connected.

Closing thought: We are guests.

Each of us is remarkably lucky to be part of this adventure. All of us – from Dr. Whelan, myself and all the professors teaching in the program to those individuals who help plan and administer the multiple program arrangements – will work our hearts out to make this an energizing, rewarding experience for you at every level. We hope we succeed, though, of course, nothing is certain. But we won’t fail for trying.

Having said that, let me close this line of communication – i.e. “Monday Updates” - by reminding each of us who live in the U.S. and will be traveling to Oxford of the following; I know this might come across as a bit “heavy-handed” and perhaps unnecessary to say it to a group of talented, mature adults like yourselves, but let me say it once and no more than that:

We are guests for five-weeks in one of the most remarkable areas of the world. Despite many similar, if not shared, traditions between our countries, you will quickly discover significant, intriguing differences. We will learn best in these newer settings if we first listen and observe, then inquire.

If we treat our hosts – as well as one another – with decency and respect, it will establish and cement a rich foundation for a sparkling summer for all.

Best regards.

Professor Stulberg and Dean Fernandez
